son, and have already made prepara-tions for its erection. The foundation-stone was laid last evening with great pomp and solemn religious observances, by the pastor, L. Triest. The architect of the proposed new building is James B. Cook, who has finished a very neat design of a framed Gothic church, which is to be fitty by thirty-five feet, built of wood, with open-timber roof, in the true mediseval style. It will cost $5000. To the rear of the church there is to be a school-house for the children of the congregation. It is to be finished by the first Sunday in December, so that there will be services held in it on Christmas-day, making proper allowances for anticipated delays, Quite a number of people gathered of laying the foundation-stone was going on, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A choir, composed of little girls, sang sev-eral hymns and Arnold's band furnished appropriate music. The pastor preached
